What It Means To Be a Member of the University of Toronto Campus Police

The University of Toronto Campus Community Police Services is a special constable service operating under agreement with the Toronto Police Services Board. We are committed to delivering policing and security services that are sensitive to the needs of our community, through collaborative partnerships and teamwork. We are seeking talented individuals who can meet the challenges of community-based policing in Canada's most diverse university environment and who represent its population.

To learn more about this challenging opportunity and how to apply, please visit the University of Toronto's Campus Community Police Services web-site at:

<http://www.campuspolice.utoronto.ca/site3.aspx>

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.
